

Shared Managed Services (SMS)

A First-Of-Its-Kind Hybrid Service for Contingent Workforce Management

A Market-Driven Solution

Traditionally, managing your contingent workforce has had two options: outsourced to a Managed Services Program (MSP) or run completely in-house. That's a pretty big leap between the two and why we developed a third option, Shared Managed Services (SMS). SMS is designed to support our clients who want to manage their program in-house but want the support of a contingent workforce expert to augment their team.

Get the Best of Both Delivery Models

VectorVMS's SMS allows companies to directly manage their contingent workforce program while still receiving specialized services of their choosing. It's truly the best of both worlds!

Supporting In-House Programs

SMS has brought success to our direct clients for over a decade. This unique and proven deployment model allows organizations to create a customized service offering designed specifically for the needs of the contingent labor programs they manage in-house.

Through the SMS program, clients will have access to a designated program manager. Our team is full of experts with years of experience in staffing, MSPs, and the contingent labor market. Additionally, you can choose from a comprehensive list of services and support options that fit your organization's needs.

Key Benefits:

Internal Program Control

Leverage internal knowledge of company culture to create a seamless talent strategy with the contingent workforce program.

Strategic Opportunities

Allow the service team to take on operational tasks while still providing industry insight and feedback on your contingent labor program strategy.

Cost Savings

Hard cost savings driven through rate rationalization and the soft savings from operational efficiency reduce the amount of time and money spent on managing contingent labor.

Vendor Neutrality

Ensure true neutrality by eliminating the ties between your service provider and any type of staffing organization.

A Focus on Core Business

Reduction of day-to-day operational tasks, increasing available time to dedicate to strategy and growth initiatives that are core to your business.

Total Talent Management

Get all the data you need to gain visibility across your entire workforce, whether that's through reporting or integrating with your other HR systems.
